International Conference on Software, Telecommunications
and Computer Networks

Symposium/Special Session on Intelligent Networks

October 7-10, 2003
Split, Dubrovnik (Croatia)
Ancona, Venice (Italy)

Call for Papers

Symposium/Special Session on Intelligent Networks will be held aboard the luxury ship "Dalmacija" traveling on the route Split (Croatia) - Venice (Italy) - Ancona (Italy) - Dubrovnik (Croatia) in the frame of the 11th International Conference on Software, Telecommunications and Computer Networks - SoftCOM 2003.

The integration of computing and communications, the emergence of new self organising and soft organising principles and practices redefine the notion of intelligent networks. The special session is focused but not limited to the demand driven information processing model and knowledge based model of such networks. An important version of such networks start to emerge from the principle of software configurable resources and network structures. The mobile agent paradigm offers an alternative way to manage such intelligent networks.

Topics:

- * information processing models
- * software configurable resources
- * software configurable network structures
- * mobile agents
- * integrated communication and computing services
- * integrated communication and computing networks

Each day of the conference the ship will be anchored in one of the ports on the route, and overnight it will sail towards the next destination. This provides participants with the opportunity to share ideas in close contact with their colleagues and to enjoy the pleasant and inspiring ambience while visiting the ports along the beautiful Adriatic coast. During the conference an exhibition of software and telecommunication products will be held, too.
