Prototype Presentations

Call for proposals

The 16th International Conference on Software, Telecommunications and Computer Networks (SoftCOM 2008), cosponsored by the IEEE Communication Society (COMSOC), will be held in attractive ambience of the Le Meridien Lav hotel September 25 & 27, and aboard the cruising ship "Dubrovnik", September 27, visiting Split and Dubrovnik. You are invited to cruise along the Croatian Adriatic coast, the very first choice for the top 10 Adventure 2006, by National Geographic.

SoftCOM 2008 will provide an open forum for communications technology researchers and engineers to discuss new and emerging systems, standards and services, and their applications in telecommunications and information systems. The Conference will feature symposia, general and special sessions, tutorials, workshops and business forum.

Prototype presentations will gather experts and professionals who wish to demonstrate new systems, applications and services, and to share opinions and experiences regarding performances, functionality, technological and marketing aspects of ICT products.

Proposals for presentations of ICT products, systems, applications and services are invited. Topics of special interest include ICT infrastructure in all areas.

Proposals including the title and short abstract (up to 200 words) should be sent to the SoftCOM secretary e-mail address softcom@fesb.hr
